

This architectural section drawing illustrates a building with a sloped roof. The drawing includes various dimensions and structural details. Key dimensions include a total height of 8771, a roof slope of 1:15, and a base width of 650. The interior structure features vertical supports and horizontal beams, with some areas highlighted in blue and yellow. The drawing is oriented horizontally, with the roofline sloping upwards from left to right.

